Research Proposal Presentation Guidelines

1. Title/topic (1 slide)

To ensure that your title and topic point directly to the focus of your research, check to see that key terms in the statement of the gap in the literature and the research aim are reproduced in the title.

2. Research 'problem' or justification (1-2 slides)

Description of your research – what, how, why (the research needs to be done)
What issue, problem, controversy or important matter has led to research on the topic and set your research into wider context of the discipline

3. 'Gap' in the literature (1-4 slides) (Through Review of Literature)

Outlines the field of literature and the 'gap', the main findings to date, theories, debates, and remaining questions within the literature, and explains how the research will contribute to the gap.

4. Research aim, objective, question or hypothesis (2 slides)

Outlines the focus or names the specific knowledge the research methodology aims to generate. Developing a plan takes time.....
What will you need to know to answer the research question? How can you find this out?
Methodology: qualitative, quantitative How will the data be collected?

5. Scope of Research (1/2 slides)

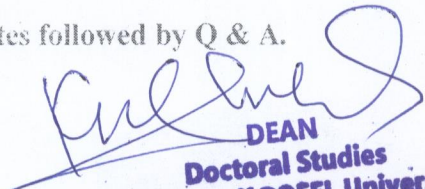

Demographic scope, Geographic scope or Psychographic scope

6. Proposed Research method and methodology (1-5 slides)

Explains what you will do to achieve the research aim or reach your conclusions.
Resources you will be needing, Type of Data you plan to collect
How much time will you need? What equipment and facilities will be used? Collaboration?
Ethics and confidentiality – does your research involve people? Do you need ethics approval?
What concerns you will face in data collection? Can you get enough data etc.

7. Summary or statement of proposed outcomes of the research (1 slide)

Approximate Presentation time will be 15 to 20 minutes followed by Q & A.
